

Health Education

The master's degree in health education is based on educational sciences, but it focuses on health education. The purpose of this program is to develop individuals who, using their theoretical knowledge and independent studies, can thoroughly grasp society, build suitable relationships, analyze needs, and provide research, educational, and counseling services. The goal is to improve community health and encourage the adoption of healthy habits.

Basic Information:

Program Type:	Degree Based
Level Of study:	Master's
School / Faculty:	school of Health
Department:
Major (Name Of Program):	Health Education

This program contact information:

Telephone:
Fax:
Mobile:
Email Address:
Address:
Contact Person Name:

Program Detail:

Length of Training:	---
Language Requirement:
Admission Requirement:	